A Strong Bid For Record Business in the Clothing Store

VALUES WORTH ANY MANS WHILE TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE.

We are offering a host of men the opportunity to settle the clothing question for this season. We are offering values in men's fine Suits and Overcoats that should set up a new record for this month's business.

Below we but state the value of this splendid Clothing conservatively, and all economies are well worth taking the time of any man to study and investigate no matter how particular his tastes may be.

Men's Heavy Ulsters $9.50 Men's finely tailored Suits $11.50
An excellent value at $15.00 These Ulsters have been tailored in heavy Scotch tweed and button close up to the neck; very smart and dressy looking, in new shades of brown and greenish mixtures. By ORDER OF THE TOWN COUNCIL

DECEMBER HAY MARKET

The month of December was the biggest month of the year for the purchase of hay in Didsbury district, and no doubt beat all other points north and south on the C.P.R. The amount purchased by six buyers in the town amounted to 2200 tons, that shipped by individual farmers amounted to about 600 tons, a total of 2800 tons for the month.

We cannot give the number of tons each of timothy and prairie hay but the average selling price has been $8 for prairie and from $12 to $15 for timothy. Striking an average of about $9 per ton, after hauling expenses, this would net the farmers the handsome sum of $25,200 for the month of December alone.

The shipment for the previous three months of the fall average 60 cars a month, which means another 2,340 tons and brings the grand total up to $46,260 that the farmers of this district received for their hay last fall.

The above does not include the large quantity of hay bought for P. Burns feeding camps in the extreme eastern part of the district.

The shipments for January up to the 11th inst. have been 559 tons.

This will be a very interesting address to everyone as well as Sunday school workers.

Samples of the Elements

German chemical manufacturers now put in a small chest, resembling a physician's outfit, a collection of samples of practically all the known elements. It makes a wonderful little museum. From an array of about seventy bottles, nature, the great alchemist, selects this and that, mixes them up, and gives us a universe. Scientists have possibly not yet isolated all the elements, but the unknown ones can be assumed to be rare, both in number and disposition.

The Reason

Brown—My wife isn't at all popular in society and yet she never speaks anything but the truth about people. Jones—I reckon that's just what makes her unpopular.

So popular is Bickie's Anti-Consumption Syrup as a medicine in the treatment of colds and coughs or ailments of the throat, due to exposure to draughts, or sudden changes of temperature, that druggists and all dealers in patent medicines keep supplies on hand to meet the demand. It is pleasant to take, and the use of it guarantees freedom from throat and lung troubles.

Nothing to Speak Of

"I hear you been callin' me 'Naw,' I only said you was a low-down, cross-eyed, how-legged, lym'phatic."

BARRING OUT DAY.

Pupils in Ontario School Annually Assert Their Independences.

One of these short, dull days there will be great excitement among the small fry of certain annual village on Georgian Bay. For it will be "Barring Out Day," and is it not a cause of pleasurable emotion that the smallest child in the school may, should fate give him the chance, with impunity defy the teacher? A very nearly extinct custom this, brought originally from Scotland by the settlers of this small burg, and, as far as the writer knows, only celebrated in two schools in the province.

For several days before the auspicious day a deep air of mystery hangs over consultations between the biggest boys in the school. The "kitts" and the "girls," say the wisecracks of eleven and twelve, must not be told the day (which day should be either on a Friday or before a general holiday) chosen for barring Out "cos they'd tell." But on the eve of battle the word goes around: "Be here early to-morrow! It's Barring Out Day!" And the youngsters go home quietly, conversing in whispering groups, lest the evening air should carry the news to any trusted party-teacher. But the big boys do not go home. Perhaps they start, but as soon as the teacher is well on his homeward way they appear from all parts of the compass and, through a convenient window, crawl into the seat of learning. But not to their usual occupations. Very quietly, so that the news is not betrayed, some energetically carry wood—(strange it does not seem to hurt their backs, or be too heavy for them as it is at home in the evenings)—and soon the main door is strongly barricaded within. Others nail down windows or provide rulers and other weapons where they can be speedily snatched up and soon they are quietly home, leaving the room looking as if ready for a German invasion at the very least.

And next morning! Do mothers have to expend vast quantities of breath in trying to arouse sleepers? Are ever chores done so hurriedly or breakfasts eaten so quickly. And caps and shoes are found, magically, surely, in correct places, and no one needs to say: "Hurry or you'll be late for school!" Wherever parents inwardly wonder until they hear a whisper concerning Barring Out and wonder no more.

And then, about an hour before regular school time, what a toiling of the bell! What shouting from the garrisoned school! What tearing races up the road, so that everyone shall be in school before the bell does. What craning of necks to get the first sight of him! And when he does appear it is a wonder the bell does not crack or, at least, descend, with such vigorous pulls; while every child shuts his teeth and prepares to attack his life dearly should the enemy attack his particular point of defence.

Now, if the teacher be a humorous soul, he charges fiercely at some particular window, whereupon everyone shrieks as loudly as he or she can, and everyone leaves his appointed place and rushes to the fray. And if the window can be lifted and teacher's hands enter to enter, what will happen? And when he enters, what joy is felt when teacher says: "Make him think other people's hands aren't leather," grows some youth who has probably tasted fruits of disobedience not long since.

After some time of this useless frays teacher, be he a good sport and careful of his reputation, wends his way to the store and purchases a large batch of "mixtures," which shortly he hands, as a peace-offering, through the window, the same time proclaiming, by his departure, a not unwelcome holiday.

And after a "grab," from which the candies emerge considerably weighted by dirt and microbes (but who knows what they are?) from the floor, everyone lends a hand at clearing away barricades (all but the big boys, who have surely done enough), and Barring Out is over for another year.

His Brutal Face.

A few days ago Hangman Radcliffe was in Montreal for the execution of John Dillon—whose sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment on account of insanity of the condemned murderer. During his stay there, Radcliffe visited one of the newspaper offices to see a police reporter whom he has known for many years.

The word that Radcliffe, the hangman, was in the building was quickly passed about; and soon all the clerks and stenographers in the business of the office were on the watch to see him going out. Also some subscribers and others who happened to be in the office were informed of Radcliffe's presence.

The result was that when Radcliffe came out of the elevator all those in the business office were drawn up in a line to receive him. He was accompanied by his friend, the police reporter, and a very kind and very popular newspaperman.

The sportsman stepped out of the elevator first, whereupon a country subscriber turned to her husband and said:

"My, but hasn't he a brutal face!"

Rhode Island.

Rhode Island received its name from what was supposed to be a resemblance in contour to the island of Rhodes, in the Mediterranean.

DON'T COUGH!

Every time you cough it means that Nature is dislodging phlegm from the delicate membranes of the throat or lungs. In doing so that membrane becomes inflamed, strained—maybe broken. There's the danger point! Broken tissue means letting down the body's defences against disease—germs await just such an entrance—Consumption itself starts that way. Don't take that chance. Shilo's Cure loosens coughs—removes phlegm—always all inflammation in the breathing tract—builds up and heals damaged tissue—puts the throat and lungs in a state of robust health. About the Town.

Where was the fire brigade on Friday night? Only a very few members were present when they were needed, and if the fire had been a serious one much valuable time would have been lost. Those in charge of the brigade should have more practice runs now and again to keep the boys in better trim for a sudden alarm.

The Didsbury Board of Trade appears to be a thing the past. There are very many important matters that should be taken up in the interests of the town and district but a deadly lethargy seems to have gripped our business men and the Board has been allowed to die a natural death. Other towns are only too eager to look after this branch of their public welfare and Didsbury with all its advantages should certainly not be behind.

In another column appears a notice calling attention to the by-law regarding the ash nuisance and the penalty attached in case of infraction. It is hoped that some attention will be paid to the notice as the practice is not only dangerous but unsightly as well. If your ash can is full notify the scavenger, he is paid to empty it for you.

A Local Business Changes Hands

Within the last few days a business change of some importance has taken place in Didsbury. The general business heretofore conducted by Mr. Geo. Peters has been purchased by two of Didsbury's popular young business men, Messrs. E. G. Reitzel and L. Kallfleisich, both of whom are known to the buying public of the district. Mr. Reitzel has been with Cooper Brothers for some years in the grocery business while Mr. Kallfleisich has been connected with the well known store of J. V. Horvath. Both bring a large experience to their business and no doubt will be successful in their new undertaking.

Lamp Exploded

Some excitement was caused in town on Friday night last about 10 o'clock when an alarm of fire was given and it was found that a lamp had exploded in some living rooms over C. C. Pearson's flour and feed store. Luckily Messrs. A. Cooper and E. Reitzel were close at hand and immediately to a some hand chemical engines and put out the fire before it made much headway. One of the fire engines was brought out by Engineer Simard and others but it was not needed.

The cause of the fire was the explosion of a hanging lamp. Very little damage was done, a table and table cloth were the only articles burned, the ceiling and walls of the room being scorched. But for the promptness of the gentlemen named this might have been a serious fire as the building in the centre of a fine block of buildings which are mostly frame.

Among the many interesting features of the January number of the Western Home Monthly, Vol. 1, No. 1, is a two column New Year's Greeting to the Canadian West from Lord Strathcona. The message, which takes a most optimistic view of the future, contains much sound advice and encouragement. His Lordship's long experience and great interest in all matters affecting the Dominion make him the pre-eminent authority on the Canada of to-day and the possibilities for the future. His recent visit to the West afforded him a direct view of many of the problems and ambitious enterprises, and following closely upon this visit, the article is of intense interest throughout.

The Royton mail was delayed for twenty-four hours on Friday, December 31st, on account of the severe storm.

Wedding Bells

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Metzgar on Monday, December 27th, 1909, when their daughter Barbara was united in marriage to Mr. Y. G. Wilson.

Promptly at twelve o'clock the beautiful strains of the "Wedding March" from Schumann called the assembled guests to attention and the bridal party made their appearance, the bride attended by Miss Zillah Cressman and the groom by R. C. Metzgar, taking their places beneath a flower of Christmas bells and the beautiful and impressive Evangelical ceremony was performed by Rev. Finkbeiner officiating. After the happy pair had received congratulations from the assembled guests all gathered in the dining room where a sumptuous repast was served. After dinner the children had their part in the festivities, a beautiful Xmas Tree having been prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Teare. A short programme was rendered by the children, with Mrs. Chas. Teare presiding at the piano, closing with a short address by Bro. Finkbeiner. In the evening a social dance took the attention of the young people and was kept up until a late hour when the guests departed wishing the young couple all happiness on their journey of life and many happy returns of the day. A great many useful and varied presents were received.

Those present from a distance were Mr. G. B. Shultz and wife and family, Ardrie, Mr. W. H. Lyon, wife and daughter, Mr. Hugo Weiler, Oids, Mr. Chas and Miss Edna Secrest, Calgary. The young folks will be at home to their friends Jan. 15th on their farm west of town.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT

Scalded To Death

On January 5th a little daughter of Mr. Helder of Acme, aged three years, in some way upset a kettle of boiling water on herself which scalded her so severely that she died on Wednesday night. Dr. Whitmore of Acme was called at once and everything possible was done to save her life but without effect.

Shut Them Out—Score 7-0 in favor of Didsbury

One of the best and cleanest games of hockey ever played in Didsbury was played on Saturday night when Airdrie took chasers tied conclusions with the Didsbury club handlers. Although the score of 7-0 looks as though the game was a walk over for the home team this was not so by any means, the visitors playing the game all the time for all they were worth. The reason for the score can be stated as better combination work, magnificent rushes by Sexsmith, Curtis and Hart, and better all round playing on the part of the home team.

Only once or twice through the game was there any danger of the Airdrie boys scoring, the puck being kept down in the centre or near the Airdrie goal all the time.

The scores were made by Sexsmith, Curtis, and Hart who were whirlwinds at shooting and in rushes, no less than five scores being made by Sexsmith alone.

Several of the younger members of the team including Smith and Snyder, played an excellent game, and it is likely that much more will be heard of them in the future.

Following was the line up:

Airdrie	Didsbury
T. Farr Goal	B. Fox
J. Robinson Point	L. Hart
J. Thomson Cover	E. Sexsmith
J. McLaughlin Rover	L. Curtis
H. Holman Centre	T. Stark
C. Fisher L. Wing	C. Smith
Rd Rosenberger R. Wing	C. Snyder
H. Glover of Airdrie was referee and gave centre satisfaction to both teams.

NOTES

There was a large attendance of spectators present although only a short notice had been given of the game.

The curling rink makes a good grand stand especially since the proprietor of the rink has made a board walk to stand on and covered openings with wire netting.

If the team keep up the present playing they should give a good account of themselves when they go north to play in the finals. They have not been beaten this season so far.

The team journey to Carstairs on Friday to play a return game with that team. It is hoped that some of their supporters will go down with them and help them along.

Distribution of Seed Grain

INDIAN CORN (for ensilage)—Early sorts: Angel of Midnight, Compton's Early and Longfellow. Later varieties: Selected Learning, Early Mastodon, and White Cap Yellow Dent.

POTATOES—Early varieties: Rochester Rose, and Irish Cobbler. Medium to late varieties: Gold Coin, Carman No. 1, and Money Maker. The later varieties are, as a rule, more productive than the earlier kinds.

Only one sample can be sent to each applicant, hence if an individual receives a sample of oats he cannot also receive one of wheat, barley, peas, Indian corn or potatoes. Applications on printed cards or sheets, or lists of names from one individual, or applications for more than one sample for one household, cannot be entertained. The samples will be sent free of charge through the mail. Applications should be addressed to
